What is WF Works?

WF Works displays over 150 pages from the Workplace Fairness website within the framework of your website.

WF Works makes your site more valuable to prospective and existing clients, and a better tool for promoting your firm and your advocacy of employee rights.

How does it work?

Workplace Fairness inserts information from our site into a template that matches the look and feel of your site—including logos, menus, links, and graphics.

How do you match the look and feel of my site?

Workplace Fairness technicians combine code from our site with code from your site. The resulting pages contain our content but look just like other pages on your site. Since anyone can view the code behind any website, we can do this without your webmaster, and that saves you money.

Do I have to reprogram my site to include WF Works?

Not at all. Workplace Fairness does all the programming and maintains a dedicated web address for your WF Works pages. All you have to do is set up one link from your homepage to WF Works, which is easy to do—and we'll help.

What about maintenance and updates?

Your WF Works pages are stored on our servers. That means we take care of maintaining the content and the design, and we automatically update your WF Works pages when we update the Workplace Fairness site. That also means you won't pay more for the added size of or traffic to your site.

Why not just link to Workplace Fairness from my site?

Once you send visitors to another site, they might not come back. With WF Works, your visitors get the comprehensive and easy-to-use information they're looking for without ever leaving your site. If they need a lawyer, they call you.

Can I pick and choose which WF Works pages I want to display?

Yes. WF Works is fully customizable. We can turn individual pages on or off at any time.
